Announcing the 2011 Groves Academy College Fair & College Conference

Unique events designed to support students with learning disabilities or attention disorders

LD/ADHD College and Post-Secondary Opportunities Fair

The Groves Academy College & Post-Secondary Opportunities Fair is designed to help students, parents and counselors understand more about the specific programs and services that are available at select colleges for students with learning disabilities or attention disorders.

Representatives from over 50 colleges are expected to attend. The colleges, including four-year, two-year, and vocational/technical schools, each have programs and services in place for LD/ADHD students.

When:

Monday, October 3, 2011, 6:00 – 8:00 pm

Where:

Groves Academy
3200 Hwy 100 South, St. Louis Park MN 55416

Cost:

No cost. No registration necessary.

LD/ADHD Conference

The Groves College Conference is designed to help students, parents and counselors understand how to navigate the college admissions process and how to work with colleges to meet individual needs.

Conference participants will have the opportunity to attend keynote and breakout sessions that cover the college experience and the college search process, specifically with regard to special learning and attention needs.

When:

Saturday, October 15, 2011, 8:30am – 2:30pm

Where:

Groves Academy
3200 Hwy 100 South, St. Louis Park MN 55416

Cost:

The cost for the College Conference is $50 for high school students and $100 for adults.

Registration materials will be available in August at www.grovesacademy.org.
